

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system and method for automatically pre-setting values in a form such as an HTML based form received via a network such as the Internet 10 and World Wide Web, includes a network access facility that is configured to access a network and receive a form, and a mapping facility that is configured to map the fields on the form to one or more predetermined values.